

BUILT WITH LANNY IN MIND.

Lanny Newland knows the world isn't flat, but that won't stop him from trying to get soybeans off of it. Lanny also knows that some combines are famous for letting crop material bunch to one side and allowing valuable yield to fall out the back. That's why Lanny runs a Gleaner. The Gleaner's exclusive accelerator rolls and two-stage cleaning evenly cleans the crop on slopes as steep as 20%. And with a cab built for a professional, Lanny keeps the beans coming in as long as the beans will let him.

We're proud to know people like Lanny are happy and successful using our machines. We're glad to know that people enjoy the simplest combine platform coupled with a smart and strong design. We're glad to know people love Gleaner, but we're not surprised. After all, we build Gleaners with these very people in mind.
