Beef Up Your Seeding

John Deere 455 Folding Grain Drill

Accurate, adaptable and affordable

How does seeding more than 20 acres per hour sound? If that's the kind of performance you need, take a look at one of the most productive tools in the field: the John Deere 455 Folding Grain Drill.

The 455 brings rugged, proven seeding performance to a wide range of crops. Offset double-disk openers feature patented active hydraulics for consistent down-pressure from one end of the drill to the other, regardless of your soil conditions or field contours.

In addition to its standard hydraulic down-pressure, the openers feature 15 inches of adjustable, spring-loaded flexibility. Each opener works independently to better maneuver over obstacles and changing field terrain. And to get over more acres between fills, the big, beefy boxes are available in grain only or grain and fertilizer combinations, are easy to fill and can hold up to 119 bushels of seed.

When you're ready to beef up your small grains seeding productivity, follow the herd into your John Deere dealer.

Seed SMART

- Available in 25-, 30- or 35-ft. widths
- Patented active hydraulics for constant opener down-pressure
- Optional Select-lift on multi-unit drills saves seed when drilling headlands and point rows
- Choose between grain-only or two grain/fertilizer seedbox configurations
- Depth-gauging press wheels for uniform opener depth control
